Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On April 27, 2006, Kraft Foods Global, Inc. (the "Company"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Kraft Foods Inc., entered into a Master Professional Services Agreement (the "Services Agreement") with EDS Information Services, L.L.C. and Electronic Data Systems Corporation (collectively, "EDS"). Pursuant to the Services Agreement, EDS will provide to the Company and certain of its affiliates (collectively, "Kraft") a broad range of information technology services that are currently performed by Kraft, including, but not limited to, data centers, hosting, telecommunications and workplace support services. The Services Agreement has an initial term of seven years beginning on June 1, 2006, and Kraft has the right to renew the Services Agreement for up to two additional years under certain terms and conditions. A press release issued by Kraft on April 28, 2006 announcing the signing of the Services Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1.

Kraft will pay EDS for the services performed under the Services Agreement under a combination of fixed and variable charges, with the variable charges fluctuating based on Kraft's actual consumption of certain services measured on a consumption basis. Based on the currently projected service needs, Kraft expects to pay approximately $1.7 billion in service fees and project costs to EDS over the initial seven-year term. To protect Kraft's expectations regarding EDS's performance, the Services Agreement has performance standards and service levels that EDS must meet or exceed. If EDS fails to meet a given performance standard, Kraft would, in certain circumstances, receive a credit against the charges otherwise due.

As a result of the Services Agreement, approximately 670 employees of Kraft, who provide certain IT support to Kraft, are expected to become employees of EDS.

To assure that the charges under the Services Agreement do not become significantly higher than the market rate for such services, the agreement provides Kraft with certain pricing protections, including a process for adjusting prices as a result of certain extraordinary events. In addition, Kraft has a right to periodically perform benchmarking studies to determine whether EDS's price for the services performed under the Services Agreement is consistent with the then current market standards and to require appropriate price adjustments under certain circumstances.

Kraft has the right to terminate the Services Agreement for cause, for convenience, upon certain change in control events related to Kraft or EDS or in certain other circumstances. However, upon a termination of the Services Agreement by Kraft under certain circumstances, including a termination by Kraft for convenience, Kraft will be required to pay a termination fee to EDS. EDS also has the right to terminate the Services Agreement in the event of Kraft's failure to pay for services performed or in certain other circumstances.

The Services Agreement also requires that Kraft and EDS indemnify the other party for specified events or actions relating to or arising out of the Services Agreement, the terms of which are customary for agreements of the same type as the Services Agreement.

Forward-Looking Statements

This report contains projections of future results and other forward-looking statements. One can identify these forward-looking statements by use of words such as “strategy,” “expects,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “believes,” “will,” “continues,” “estimates,” “intends,” “projects,” “goals,” “targets” and other words of similar meaning. One can also identify them by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. These statements are based on the Company’s current assumptions and estimates and are subject to risks and uncertainties. In connection with the “safe harbor” provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, the Company is hereby identifying important factors that could cause actual results and outcomes to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement made by or on behalf of the Company. These factors include: (a) the effect on the Company of competition in its markets, changes in consumer preferences and demand for its products, including diet trends, changing prices for its raw materials and local economic and market conditions; (b) the Company’s continued ability to promote brand equity successfully, to anticipate and respond to new consumer trends, to develop new products and markets, to broaden brand portfolios, to compete effectively with lower priced products in a consolidating environment at the retail and manufacturing levels and to improve productivity; (c) the Company’s ability to consummate and successfully integrate acquisitions and to realize the cost savings and improved asset utilization contemplated by its restructuring program; (d) the impact of gains or losses, or lost operating income, from the sales businesses that are less of a strategic fit within the Company’s portfolio; (e) the effects of foreign economies, changes in tax requirements and currency movements; (f) fluctuations in levels of customer inventories and credit and other business risks related to the operations of the Company’s customers; (g) the Company’s access to credit markets, borrowing costs and credit ratings, which may in turn be influenced by the credit ratings of Altria Group, Inc.; (h) the Company’s benefit expense, which is subject to the investment performance of pension plan assets, interest rates and cost increases for medical benefits offered to employees and retirees; (i) the impact of recalls if products become adulterated or misbranded, liability if product consumption causes injury, ingredient disclosure and labeling laws and regulations, potential claims relating to false or deceptive advertising under consumer protection or other laws and the possibility that consumers could lose confidence in the safety and quality of certain food products; (j) consumer concerns regarding genetically modified organisms and the health implications of obesity and trans-fatty acids; (k) potential short-term volatility in the trading volume and market price of the Company’s stock as a result of a spin-off of the Company from Altria Group, Inc.; (l) the risks associated with EDS’s ability to provide information technology services to meet the Company’s needs; and (m) the Company and EDS’s ability to effectively transition information technology services to EDS on a timely basis. Developments in any of these areas could cause the Company’s results to differ materially from results that have been or may be projected by or on behalf of the Company. The Company cautions that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. For additional information on these and other factors that could affect the Company’s forward-looking statements, see the Company’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Company’s most recently filed Annual Report on Form 10-K and subsequent reports on Form 10-Q and 8-K. Any forward-looking statements in this report are made as of the date hereof. The Company does not undertake to update any forward-looking statement.

KRAFT FOODS TO OUTSOURCE IT INFRASTRUCTURE TO EDS

NORTHFIELD, IL, April 28, 2006 — Kraft Foods Inc. (NYSE: KFT), a global leader in branded food and beverages, today announced a seven-year, $1.7 billion agreement to receive information technology services from Electronic Data Systems (EDS), a leading provider of IT services. The agreement, which includes data centers, hosting, telecommunications, and workplace support services, begins on June 1, 2006.

“World-class information technology is critical to Kraft’s long-term business success. Our strategy is to have the ideal mix of in-house and outsourced activities. So we are very pleased that EDS, a leading provider of IT services, will now be a key part of our team,” said Roger Deromedi, Kraft Foods CEO.

Approximately 670 employees, who provide certain IT support to Kraft, are expected to transition to EDS as a result of the agreement. The Company will recognize asset impairment and implementation costs related to the transition. Such costs will be expensed as part of the Company’s previously announced restructuring program.

“In outsourcing our infrastructure services to EDS, we take advantage of their scale and exceptional capabilities to help us focus our internal resources on our core business activities,” said Alene Korby, Kraft Foods Executive Vice President and CIO.

Kraft Foods (NYSE:KFT) is the world’s second-largest food and beverage company. For more than 100 years, we’ve been dedicated to helping people around the world eat and live better.
